

Mayor's corner

This year Thanksgiving takes on a different tone than in the past. As a veteran from the Vietnam era, I have a strong feeling for everything going on in our world today. However, as President Bush keeps stating: Locally, we should keep our lives as normal as possible. We all need to do this, so let's get on with business.

Please take a few minutes to drive through Cook Park to observe the new baseball and soccer fields under construction. The City Council walked through the park recently. If you drive to the east end of the new parking lot, you will see where the butterfly garden and wetland observation structure will be located. It looks GREAT!

Two new restroom facilities will be constructed and there will be a concession booth near the main entrance. The Atfalati organization is installing baseball and soccer fields, which we anticipate will be completed in time for the Balloon Festival next year.

I hope you have a great Thanksgiving with your families and friends!

Jim Griffith, Mayor

Update on proposed new library

The recommended site for the proposed new Tigard Library encompasses 14.7 acres with excellent access to Fanno Creek, trees and nearby open spaces.

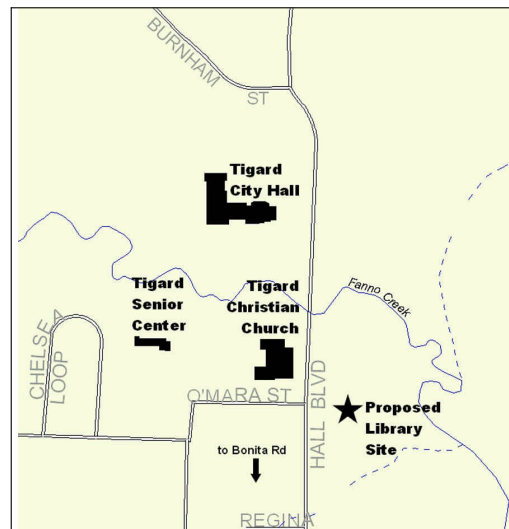

The City will be seeking input from the community to develop a site Master Plan that would maximize the potential of the greenspace. Community members will be encouraged to come and explore the opportunities presented by this land. The site amenities of the proposed new library have the potential to benefit all of our citizens.

Facilitated discussions will seek creative ideas for incorporation of the site's greenspace into the City and into plans for a new library. Watch future issues of Cityscape for opportunities to provide your input.

If you would like to schedule a presentation for your neighborhood or organization about the proposed new library or for more information, please contact Library Director Margaret Barnes at (margaret@ci.tigard.or.us) or 503-639-4171, ext. 263.

Parenting Classes

Development of the Social Creature: Nurturing the Best in Your Child

Tuesday, Nov. 6, 2 to 4 p.m.
Puett Room

As children grow, they develop and hone their physical, cognitive, emotional, and perceptual capabilities. Many of these steps are biologically triggered, but they may also be socially driven. Learn how to foster your child's development so that they realize their potential. Registration is required.

Communication: The Key to a Successful Family

Thursday, Nov. 8, 7 to 9 p.m.
Puett Room

Proactive communication not only improves the family environment but greatly increases parenting effectiveness. Learn how to interact and help your child become more adept at dealing with real-life situations. Registration is required.

These programs are made possible by the Family and Community Development Faculty of the Oregon State University Extension Service of Washington County.

I Read to My Baby

Tuesday, Nov. 27, 7 to 8 p.m.
Puett Room

Angela J. Reynolds, youth services outreach librarian for Washington County Cooperative Library Services, will present a lively session to new parents and their babies. Learn how to share books, stories, and rhymes with your infant. Each baby will receive a board book. Registration is required.

Kristallnacht, remembering another night of terrorism

On the night of November 9, 1938, terrorism exploded in Germany as Nazi thugs attacked Jewish homes, businesses and synagogues with bricks thrown through windows. This Night of Broken Glass, Kristallnacht, is recognized as the beginning of Holocaust, the years of de-humanizing Jews in Europe.

Alice Kern, a survivor of Auschwitz and Bergen-Belsen concentration camps, has experience speaking to adults and to children of all ages about the Holocaust, and she is eager to share her message of strength and hope. Join her for this lecture at Fowler Middle School Commons (10865 SW Walnut Street, Tigard), Thursday, Nov. 8, 7 to 9 p.m. Co-sponsored by Tigard Public Library and Fowler Middle School.

Book Club reads Falling Leaves

This month, in honor of the 7th Annual Adult Reading Program, Turning Pages...Falling Leaves, the book club selected Falling Leaves: The True Story of an Unwanted Chinese Daughter by Adeline Yen Mah. Read the book, described by The Oregonian as a "fresh and haunting account of a childhood that nearly paralyzed its author for life." Then join the discussion, Tuesday, Nov. 13, 7 to 9 p.m. in the Puett Room. New members are always welcome.

GET CARRIED AWAY . . . READ! WITH THE PARROT LADY

Saturday, Nov. 17, 3 to 4 p.m.
Town Hall

Celebrate Children's Book Week, Get Carried Away...Read! Our special guest Gudrun Maybaum, alias "The Parrot Lady," will present an interactive parrot show featuring trained birds. Children of all ages will be amazed with the beauty and intelligence of these unforgettable creatures. Visit the library after the presentation and check out some great parrot books.

Stuff to do for Teens

School work piling up? No worries—the library's Homework Center is here with free tutoring and homework help for middle and high school students. Open Mondays –Thursdays, 4 to 6 p.m. (closed on school and library holidays). Bus transportation available from Tigard middle schools.

Wednesday, Nov. 7, 7 to 8 p.m.
Red Rock Creek Room

Teen Idea Group: Want to have a say in the music, movies, books, and programs the library offers for teens? Join us and let your voice be heard! Snacks and laughter provided.

Financial Programs

Join David Poppe, investment representative with Edward Jones, for one or both of these seminars. Each will be held in the Puett Room and registration is required.

Financial Planning for College

Thursday, Nov. 1, 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. Everything you need to know about educational IRAs, Coverdell Educational Savings Accounts and 529 plans.

Tax Relief 2001

Thursday, Nov. 15, 7:30-8:30 p.m. Take advantage of this new law, which includes provisions that can affect many aspects of your financial security, including college savings and retirement and estate planning.

Look what's new!

SelfCheck machine, offering privacy and an alternative to the checkout line. It's fun too!

Saturday, Nov. 17, 2 to 3:30 p.m.
Puett Room

Poetry Writing Workshop: Poet and educator Michele Aranguiz leads fun exercises in the techniques of writing and revising poetry. Bring original works to share if you wish. Grades 6-12, registration required, call 503-226-3634.

Friday, Nov. 30, 7 to 9 p.m. Town Hall

Free Movie Night: O Brother, Where Art Thou? (PG-13). The Coen brothers reset Homer's Odyssey in 1930's Mississippi, with a ragtag trio of escaped convicts as heroes. Snack and drink provided.

Celebrate the Season of Reading at the Falling Leaves Gala

Sunday, Nov. 4 marks the end of the 7th Annual Adult Reading Program, Turning Pages...Falling Leaves. All registered participants will be invited to the Falling Leaves Gala, to be held on Saturday, Nov. 17. Don't miss your opportunity to attend Tigard's literary event of the year, with guest authors James David, Jane Kirkpatrick, Kris Nelscott, and live jazz from the Tom Wakeling Trio.

Enjoy a cornucopia of snacks and desserts, door prizes and (for those who read or listened to 1,500 hundred pages in the program) the chance to win the Grand Prize! It's not too late! Register for the program on or before Nov. 4, then join us for this fabulous party.

The Falling Leaves Gala is made possible by grant awards from Live @ Your Library and the Regional Arts and Culture Council.

Thank goodness for volunteers

Where would we be without volunteers? In this month of Thanksgiving, we would like to say "Thanks" to all of you who give so generously of your time and talents. Contact the library if you are interested in volunteering.

Friday night music at the library

This month, the library welcomes back Lew Jones, signer-songwriter and talented guitar player, on Friday, November 9, from 6 to 8 p.m. The performance is free and located in the library's Puett Room. Jones plays an original blend of folk, blues and contemporary pop. Playing songs from his three Cds, Jones's talent make for a fresh listening experience.

Sponsored by The Friends of the Tigard Library.

Building appeals board members sought

The Building Appeals Board hears appeals of decisions made by the building official regarding application of Tigard Municipal Code Chapter 14, Buildings and Construction. The Board consists of seven members including:

- ★ general public representative
- ★ an Oregon Disability Commission representative
- ★ a licensed general contractor
- ★ a registered professional structural engineer
- ★ a building official employed by an Oregon municipality
- ★ an attorney actively practicing law in Oregon

Terms of office are four years. The Board meets when an appeal has been filed. Applications for the Board will be accepted through November 30. To apply, please complete a Citizen Interest Application available:

- ★ on the City's web site: (www.ci.tigard.or.us)
- ★ at the City Hall lobby
- ★ upon request, by mail

For information, please contact Building Official Gary Lampella at (gary@ci.tigard.or.us) or 503-639-4171, ext. 311 or Volunteer Coordinator Susan Koepping at (susank@ci.tigard.or.us) or 503-639-4171, ext. 460.

Fall leaves...

Autumn is here and leaves are falling. An accumulation of leaves, needles, vegetation and debris can cause drainage headaches for homeowners and City crews. Gutters, downspouts, drainage gates and catch basins are the most common places drainage trouble occurs. The best way to avoid such problems is to regularly inspect and remove obstructions from the drainage structures surrounding your home.

The City of Tigard does not have a curbside leaf collection program. The City is responsible for removing debris from the street, but piles of leaves swept or dumped on the street cannot be picked up by street sweeping equipment. During heavy rains, leaves left at curbside flow downstream and block catch basin grates, resulting in standing water and creating hazards for drivers.

This time of year is a challenge to the Tigard's Public Works crews. The crews try to keep the storm lines and catch basins clear and functioning correctly to avoid drainage and flooding problems. We can use your help! If you see a catch basin that needs to be cleared, please contact the Public Works Department at 503-639-4171, ext. 301, or better yet, go ahead clear it and contact Public Works to have the leaves picked up.

Enjoy the autumn season color and thank you for your assistance in keeping the streets clear of leaves and other drainage obstructions this fall.

Summerlake Park master plan update community workshop meeting

Neighbors recently shared ideas about Summerlake Park at a Community Workshop meeting. The words people used to describe their way of thinking about this park were: serene, peaceful, quiet, open, natural, water-based and aesthetically pleasing.

City of Tigard Community Development Director Jim Hendryx led a discussion on the management plan for the lake. Consultants also reviewed information from the last two workshop meetings and presented a revised draft master plan for review by the citizens. Citizens suggested additional park amenities including: an elementary-age playground, a maintenance building, informal play fields, accessible pathways and a water play feature. Input also included comments about the importance of the lake and a request to look into on-street parking.

Additional features were discussed including a skatepark, bike jumps, dog parks and a BMX track. While these features were considered to be important. The general feeling of most workshop attendees was that these amenities could be accommodated at other park sites.

Staff will review the next draft plan containing the latest public comments. For more information, contact Parks and Facilities Manager Daniel Plaza at (daniel@ci.tigard.or.us) or 503-639-4171, ext. 399.

City parks update

Your Parks crew has been working on the following projects:

- à Finished installing a new drinking fountain in Jack Park near the playground equipment constructed last summer.
 - à Finished irrigation system additions and a new pathway through the rhododendron garden at Summerlake Park. When weather permits, the crew will install new plants, including trees, donated by Jeff Sorg.
 - à Received a memorial bench donated for Summerlake Park, which will be installed near the east playground and the walk bridge.
 - à Cleared blackberries and debris to make way for the volunteers participating in the October 27 Make a Difference Day. Volunteers added plantings along the road to the waterfront in Cook Park. Two new picnic areas were greatly enhanced by this planting project.
 - à Began the winter renovation of the soccer fields. Since October 28, the Cook Park main gates to the waterfront have been closed.
 - à Began leaf removal in October. Most activity will occur in Cook Park because of the number of mature trees.
 - à Began planning for the holiday tree lighting, which will be located at Liberty Park on Main Street this year. Parks staff will be busy readying the park for the event.
- For more information on parks, contact Steve Martin at (steve@ci.tigard.or.us) or 503-639-4171, ext. 398.

Meet the new parks facilities manager

The Tigard Parks Division announces the appointment of Parks and Facilities Manager Dan Plaza.

Dan comes to the City of Tigard from the Willamalane Park and Recreation District in Springfield, Oregon, where he was the Superintendent for 18 years. Dan graduated from San Jose State University with a Bachelor's Degree in Park and Recreation Administration and he attained his Master's Degree from the University of Illinois.

Dan has worked with several park and recreation organizations. He was also a "baby cuddler" for the neo-natal care unit at Sacred Heart Hospital in Eugene.

We are fortunate to have Dan join the Public Works Team!

Lynn Wells named October's employee of the month

Lynn started working for the City of Tigard in July of 1995 as a utility worker in the Public Works Department. He is now a Senior Utility Worker in the Streets Division of the Department.

Lynn stepped outside of his normal work routine recently and spent two days on the City's "Tiger" mower doing battle with blackberry bushes. Getting these bushes under control would have normally cost the City about $400 in herbicides and at least two weeks of staff time. Homeowners in the neighborhood are thrilled!

Thanks, Lynn, for going the extra mile to help your co-workers and the community.

Tree planting at Northview Park

On October 3, 2001 Tigard City Forester Matt Stine, worked with 10 Americorps members to plant 39 trees in Northview Park.

This tree-planting project took about a year to coordinate. The city forester worked closely with residents in the Castle Hill Subdivision to determine the species of trees to be planted and the location of each planting site. Trees were planted on the park's perimeter so large open areas would remain for recreation activities. Eventually, these trees will provide much-needed shade for park users, wildlife habitat and soil improvements.

A combination of native and non-native tree species were planted. Due to the overall site conditions (soil type, high wind exposure, full sun, varying slopes and water availability) we chose species of trees that adapt to harsh growing conditions. We focused on species diversity choosing trees that have pleasing fall color, pretty flowers or elegant forms. The trees will reach varying heights at maturity.

The Americorps members are part of the Northwest Service Academy located in Portland. The crew who assisted in the tree planting spends a year performing community service activities. In addition to tree planting, the group's activities include non-native plant removal, environmental education and ecosystem restoration.

Please visit the City's newest park located on Northview Drive near the SW Walnut/SW Barrows Road intersection. If you have any questions please contact Matt Stine at (mstine@ci.tigard.or.us) or 503-639-4171, ext. 423.

Water is life

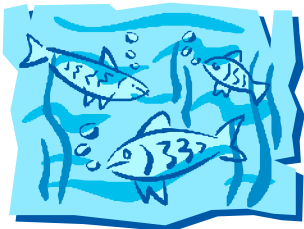

This year Tigard's first water conservation calendar will be issued. This calendar, Water is Life, displays winners of a coloring contest held last spring. The contest was open to all elementary students in the Tigard water service area. In addition to the student's pictures, the calendar contains water conservation tips and facts.

Congratulations to the winners:

- Andie D., Deer Creek Elementary
- Alejandra B., C.F. Tigard Elementary
- Ashley B., C.F. Tigard Elementary
- Christian M., C.F. Tigard Elementary
- Alex L., Templeton Elementary
- Joshua D., Templeton Elementary
- Emily F., Templeton Elementary
- Caleb H., Templeton Elementary
- Jayati R., Templeton Elementary
- David P., Templeton Elementary
- Erika B., Templeton Elementary
- Sam V., Templeton Elementary
- Sarah W., Templeton Elementary

All pictures from the coloring contest can be viewed at the Tigard Library October 29 to November 21.

The City of Tigard is offering its water conservation calendar to water customers free of charge. To receive a calendar visit the library between the above dates or contact Tigard's Water Conservation Coordinator, Sara Danz at (sara@ci.tigard.or.us) or 503-639-4171, ext. 346. Supplies are limited, so do not delay!

Numerous thefts from vehicles prompts warning from police

Tigard, along with the greater Portland area, is experiencing a large number of break-ins and thefts from vehicles. Take the following precautions to avoid becoming a victim:

- Always lock vehicles; keep windows and sunroofs closed.
- Keep valuables out of sight by storing such items in the trunk or a concealed area of the vehicle.
- If you have anti-theft devices, use them.

- Report suspicious activity.

Take the initiative to contact the police if you observe activity that may be criminal. To report a criminal act in progress, call 9-1-1. To report a non-emergency suspicious activity, call 503-629-0111. To learn more, contact the Tigard Crime Prevention Officer at 503-684-4997, ext. 220.

Listen up...

On September 25, 2001 the Tigard City Council adopted a new noise ordinance to replace cumbersome noise standards that hampered enforcement of noise issues.

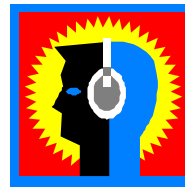

The new ordinance allows objective and subjective methods of enforcement. Previously, noise readings were the only way to establish a violation. The new ordinance continues to list noise limits but also allows for enforcement based on complaints by two different households.

Subjective Method:

Violations that can now be addressed include plainly audible or unnecessarily loud sounds that are problems for residences, overnight accommodations, hospitals, etc., between 9 p.m. and 7 a.m. Plainly audible means noise with content that can be distinguished, such as speech, vocal sounds and musical rhythms. Unnecessarily loud means sound that interferes with normal spoken communication.

Objective Method:

Sound limits are measured at the boundary or within a property where the sound is considered to be a problem.

The limits are:

- 1) For noise sensitive dwellings such as residences, motels, churches, daycare centers, hospitals, schools, or nursing care centers:
 - 40 decibels between 9 p.m. and 7 a.m.
 - 50 decibels between 7 a.m. and 9 p.m.
- 2) Where there are no noise sensitive units, the standards are increased:
 - 60 decibels between 9 p.m. and 7 a.m.
 - 75 decibels between 7 a.m. and 9 p.m.

There is also a list of exceptions including non-amplified sounds by organized athletic activities, emergency work and sounds regulated by other laws. Sounds caused by demolition activities as well as industrial, agricultural and construction activities are excepted during the hours of 7 a.m. and 9 p.m. Monday through Friday and 8 a.m. and 9 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday. In no case, however, can sounds exceed 85 decibels for more than 5 minutes in any calendar day.

Questions or complaints can be filed with Christine Darnell, code compliance specialist at 503-639-4171, ext. 314.
